Conversations In the Spirit - a How To Guide

Our areas of work

Resources for formation and training

We create and make freely available a range of resources, such as our parish council starting packs; the basics of spiritual conversation; resources for school councils, synodal leadership, reaching the margins - and whatever else you might need.

Theological and theoretical

Facilitating an academic resource group to discuss some of the most important questions that arise as we walk the synodal path together.

Networking

We help to bring together and engage those working on similar themes in the area of synodality.

The School for Synodality is a project of the Catholic Diocese of Northampton to help support the synodal conversion of the Church in England and Wales in our day to day practice. Through conversations, the development of resources and our programmes, we hope to enable an openness to the Holy Spirit in our Church through listening, sharing and discernment.
